Anticipated Arrivals:

The U.S. Department of State allocates refugees based on where the resettlement agency is located. In FFY (federal fiscal year) 2016, refugees have been (preliminarily) allocated to programs in the counties below. Actual arrivals may vary. The local refugee resettlement programs and the Tennessee Office for Refugees (TOR) have met with state and local officials and collectively believe that the programs and these counties have the capacity to successfully resettle refugees.

FFY 2016:

Davidson/Rutherford/Williamson	1,350
Hamilton	85
Knox	215
Shelby	200

Actual Arrivals:

For the period of this report, actual new arrivals to counties were as follows:

Bradley	12
Davidson	269
Hamilton	13
Knox	34
Rutherford	2
Shelby	41
Sumner	2

Age Breakdown:

The age breakdown for these arrivals is as follows:

Minors	149
Employable adults	220
Seniors	4

Letters of Agreement:

The agreements for FFY 2016 were submitted with the last quarterly report.

Information Requests:

For the period of this report, TOR received requests for information from Representative Pody, multiple correspondence from Representative Ragan, information requests from college students and professors, numerous media outlets across the state re: Syrian resettlement, citizens who had questions about our role in refugee resettlement (provided education and redirected them to the organizations/individuals who can address their concerns), many citizens who want to help resettle refugees (directed to the resettlement agencies as volunteers), a few threats that were reported to the local FBI office, and media inquiry re: Senator Tracy's false accusation regarding the regular and timely submission of these reports.

No complaints were received.
